PAPE-DAWSON ENGINEERS, INC. ANNOUNCES ACQUISITION OF PLANO-BASED FIRM DOWDEY, ANDERSON & ASSOCIATES, INC.

Civil engineering firm Pape-Dawson Engineers, Inc. expands its footprint in the Dallas-Fort Worth region

Dallas, Texas – Today, Pape-Dawson Engineers, Inc., a leading civil engineering firm in Texas, announced the acquisition of Plano-based firm Dowdey, Anderson & Associates (DAA), expanding its footprint in the Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area.

Headquartered in San Antonio with offices across the state, Pape-Dawson established its Dallas location in 2014. Led by Brad Davis, P.E., Managing Principal North Texas, the Dallas office designs large residential developments, commercial properties and public works projects. Signature Pape-Dawson DFW projects include Big Sky Regional Water Facilities, TxDOT General Engineering Consulting (GEC) for the North Tarrant Express project, the Liberty Trails single family development, and numerous multi family projects in the Metroplex area.

“Under the leadership of Bill Anderson and Michael Dowdey, DAA became the premier single family residential engineering firm in the Dallas-Forth Worth area,” said Gene Dawson, President of Pape-Dawson. “Combining our teams allows us to most effectively serve the needs of our collective Metroplex clients and our growing communities. Together we are number one in plats filed, in single family residential lots platted, and in total acres platted in the State of Texas.”

“As we looked to expand in the Dallas-Fort Worth region, we searched for a firm whose mission and values seamlessly aligned with ours. DAA quickly emerged as the perfect fit,” said Brad Davis, P.E., Managing Principal North Texas. “We similarly prioritize a commitment to service, our clients, and the community.”

Established in 1967, DAA is a diversified engineering and design firm that provides land development services. Example projects include Mustang Lakes and Cambridge Crossing in Celina; Sunset Pointe in Little Elm; Star Trail in Prosper; Townlake in Flower Mound; and Richwoods, Lexington Country, and Edgewood in Frisco. Over the last decade, DAA has platted over 20,000 lots in the Metroplex.
